

A Single Solution That Performs

Companies throughout the world turn to the Longview Performance Management Platform so their financial and accounting teams get fast, convenient access to mission-critical planning, budgeting, and forecasting information – without the need for extensive technical knowledge or assistance from IT. With the Longview Performance Management Platform, businesses can achieve a solid competitive edge by:

- Obtaining a comprehensive, real-time view of current performance, forecasts, and plans
- Accurately modeling organizational behavior based on plans, budgets, and forecasts
- Gaining insight into how changes in the business impact future outlooks
- Consolidating tax information and efficiently preparing provisions and tax plans
- Enabling financial analysts to create driver-based planning and forecasting models unique to their specific organization
- Easily consolidating financial results and issuing reports

Financial analysts can create planning and forecasting models unique to their organization.

WebFOCUS Enterprise CPM provides powerful, state-of-the-art features and all the tools businesses need to maximize the value of the Longview platform:

- Unparalleled data access that allows users to seamlessly retrieve data from virtually any enterprise source and combine it with Longview financial information
- Executive dashboards that enable more effective management of business metrics and key performance indicators by presenting related information in the most flexible, visually intuitive way possible
- Drill-down to GL data to enhance financial analysis with complete visibility into the granular, transaction-level detail behind the financial information from Longview
